THE WORD

Years ago, I read a wonderful novel called The Power of One by South African novelist Bryce Courtenay, a mesmerizing story about the difference one person could make in the world. Today’s readings remind us of the power of one when that one is under the influence of the Holy Spirit. This same Spirit who came upon Jesus at His Baptism and worked through Him during His ministry came upon the disciples.

We see the Spirit at work in Peter today, as he courageously preaches Jesus as risen Lord before a multitude from all over the Mediterranean world. The Spirit is also at work in Paul, giving him a vision that continues to inflame us so many centuries later. And as we celebrate the birthday of the Church today, we can also recognize the work of the Holy Spirit in the lives of hundreds of thousands of men and women over the centuries.

The Spirit works in different ways, sometimes moving us out of our comfortable places into a world of uncertainty and danger. Sometimes the Spirit fires our minds and hearts to say and do things we never would have thought possible. And sometimes the Spirit works in quiet ways through gifts given to each of us for the good of the community.

The power of one is ultimately the power of our one God, whom we acknowledge as Father, Son and Holy Spirit. It is one in many, unity in diversity. And we are to mirror that unity in diversity by allowing the power of the Spirit to work in us as a community.
