Catholic Home Mission – June 5th

Next week's second collection supports the missions here in the United States. There are many places in America - Appalachia, the Deep South, the Southwest, the Rocky Mountain states, Puerto Rico, and the island dioceses in the Pacific and Caribbean – where the Catholic Church struggles just to keep parishes open and to educate children in faith. Please plan to give generously to assist fellow Catholics in America.

THE WORD

The Easter season keeps offering us pictures of what happens when the power of resurrected life, given by Jesus to His disciples, enters the world. Sometimes it led to a recognition that one group should not be favored over another, whether they were widows or Samaritans. All were to be served; all were to receive the Gospel.

When the deacon Philip began to preach Jesus as the Messiah, the people of Samaria listened. They not only heard Philip's message, but also saw the power of God's salvation at work as He cast out demons and cured people who were crippled and paralyzed. With the new birth of faith came Baptism and a reception of the Holy Spirit, when Peter and John laid hands on them.

The Holy Spirit continues to bring the truth of who God is and the strength to help us live in that truth, fully revealed in Jesus. Because of the Spirit, we dwell with the Father and the Son. Jesus' promises come to fulfillment in us; we are not orphans, but beloved sons and daughters, the divine life of the Trinity flowing in us. In the Eucharist Jesus comes to be with us, and brings the Father, for He is in the Father and we are in Him and He in us.

Resurrection life commits us to living out the command "Always be ready to give an explanation to anyone who asks you for a reason for your hope" (1Peter 3:15). The Spirit brings hope and, as Pope Benedict XVI wrote in his encyclical "Saved in Hope" (Spe Salvi), "The one who has hope lives differently."
