Good News!

Our parish received its first 2014 BAA refund of $6,147.08 from the Diocese for exceeding the BAA pledges paid goal. The BAA committee of Terry Creedon, Jack Balough and Kathy Sako thank you for your continued support to this year's campaign and pledge payments. These funds, along with last years BAA results plus recent bequests, will be used toward a new wooden floor and refurbishing of the church's pews. More details will follow on these two major projects.

Repair Fund Collection – Today!

A second collection will be taken today for the repairs on the church and rectory. We thank you in advance for your continuous support of this program.

THE WORD

It is an almost unquestionable principle among many people today that it is bad to be judgmental. After all, doesn't Jesus say, "Judge not, lest you be judged?" but today's scriptures imply that holding people accountable for their actions is not only something that God commands us to do, but it is also one of the ways in which we show love to our neighbors. When we see someone doing something wrong, it is an act of kindness to turn him or her from that course of action.

Important here is the distinction between judging a person and judging an action. Only God can judge a person because only God can see into the heart and know the intention with which someone acts. But, as Paul reminds us in the second reading, God has also shown us the sort of actions that befit a truly loving person, the sort of actions that lead us toward God rather than away from God. While we cannot judge how a person stands in the eyes of God, we are called to make judgments all the time about our own actions and the actions of others. If we see people acting to a way that is unloving, we are obligated to point this out, for their own good as well as for the good of those around them.

We should ask ourselves whether our hesitation to judge another person's actions grows out of genuine humility and acceptance or out of a desire simply not to be perceived as a scold. Few of us relish the role of keeper of public morality. But when we see someone engaged in behavior that is harmful to themselves or others, it is our role to speak out honestly and with love.

– How can I be sure that my reluctance to pass judgment on others' actions doesn't grow out of fear of rejection or unpopularity?

– When I make a negative judgment regarding another's actions, how can I communicate at the same time a genuine love and concern for that person?
