LECTOR MEETING & TRAINING!

All individuals currently serving as Lectors, and all who wish to join or have any interest in knowing more about becoming Proclaimers of the Word, are invited, asked and welcome to attend a meeting in the church at 10:00 a.m. (between the 9:00 and 11:00 a.m. Masses) on Sunday, September 24th. Training will be offered for all who are interested; and this meeting will provide an opportunity for everyone to ask any questions, and share comments, ideas, and suggestions that you may have to make our ministry even more joyful and service-friendly.

THE WORD

Are you familiar with the principle of subsidiarity? First, go to the lowest level needed to settle a conflict. Go first to your brother or sister. If that settles it, all is well. If not, move up to the next level of authority. If that does not settle the situation, take witnesses to ensure fairness to you and your opponent. If that does not bring resolution, invoke the entire community. If that doesn't work, treat the person like an outsider. Treating someone like a Gentile or a tax collector can mean ignoring and mistreating the person. Faithful Jews thought of Gentiles and sinners as unworthy of respect. Others apply Jesus' teaching about loving one's neighbor, even one's enemy, love to the outsider: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." In other words, even tough love includes basic respect.

Tough love sets boundaries that can separate someone from the community until the person chooses to change. It's their choice. That's Ezekiel's message: Tell the wicked one what needs to change. They must make the choice. If we speak, we have done our part. If we do not speak out, then we will be held responsible for the actions of the wicked.

St. Catherine of Siena said, "Speak the truth in love." That's how God treats us, even when we turn away from God. Speak from the desire that the other will change, not to destroy them. This requires inner subsidiarity to God's spirit within us. It also requires being caring, rather than judgmental – again like God treats us. Speak in the way that you would want someone to speak to you. Love your neighbor as yourself. Seek not to do evil to your neighbor and thus fulfill the law.

- When has speaking the truth in love led to change or healing?
- How can you apply the principle of subsidiarity to your everyday life?
